This year, as we aim to be more inquisitive, we have been named the "Billie Jean King" class.

Billie Jean King is an inquisitive role model because she constantly questioned the norms and challenged the status quo throughout her career in tennis. We'll explore how her courage and determination led her to win 39 Grand Slam titles and challenge unfair practices. By studying her inquisitive nature and her willingness to question normal practices, we can learn to pursue our own goals fearlessly. Billie Jean King's commitment to fairness and equal opportunities inspires us to embrace curiosity, ask important questions, and strive to make a positive impact on our world, just as she did!

She is truly someone who will inspire us to be more inquisitive!

Block 3 - Ancient Rome

How did the ancient Romans use their creativity and resilience to overcome conflicts and shape their world?

Using the above question, the children will explore the concepts of conflict, creativity and resilience as we discover the amazing topic of Ancient Rome. This hugely significant time period lends itself to an enormous amount of learning - from their fearsome leaders, to the creation of democracy and an unstoppable empire. This block will be packed full of exciting learning opportunities as we explore who were the Romans and how they influenced the world.

In literacy, we will be building and creating our own myths focusing on 'Float' as our inspiration. In our lessons we will consider how to make a paper boat, which the boy plays with happily in the rain and puddles - until disaster strikes. Fortunately clever Dad has another trick up his sleeve.

Homework

Please see below for the homework schedule. If your a child is a free reader they will take turns with staff to choose their books to ensure they are exposed to a variety of genres. Regardless of what day your child finishes their book, we will endeavour to change it for them (time allowing).

Class Dojo

The school uses Class Dojo as a way to promote STRIVE as well as being an opportunity for you to contact Mr Stutchfield about any queries you may have. Please make sure you have signed up so that we can share all our learning with you.

Thank you in advance for your support for the coming year to aid your child's development and progress. The partnership between school and home is crucial to reinforce concepts learnt and enable your child to reach their full potential.

We are looking forward to what the year ahead holds!
